The University preparatory school is divided into two parts, those who are preparing for the regular college course and the normal preparatory students. The first year of the first class was dropped last year. The faculty has now discontinued the first and second years of both courses. This leaves only the third year preparatory course.

An effort was on foot to cut this out with the rest, but it was not leemed advisable, as many of the high schools are newly instituted and not chough advanced high school studies are taught to drop the third year course. It was promised however that the faculty would eliminate this also as soon as possible.

One exception is made in the first and second years and that is in the case of those who receive state high school diplomas. According to a recent ruling of the legislature fifty state high school diplomas are given out each year which ination. Clerks in offices of the first and section legislature fifty state high school diplomas are given out each year which allowed the holder to enter the University normal school without paying the registration fee. It would be impossible to do away with these, but it will only mean about fifteen or twenty students each year, as the others will go to the branch normal school at Cedar City.

Almost every department is in need of class rooms. Several of the courses that were to have been offered the last half of this year had to be eliminated because rooms could not be found in which to hold recitations. The need of more laboratry space is also felt. The normal course is the chief sufferer in the lack of room. There is one class of 125 students that must recite in one room.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT IS TO BE ELIMINATED.

The faculty of the University had an important meeting yesterday afternoon at which two measures were taken to place the state institution on a par with the big eastern colleges. Plans were laid for the discontinuance of the preparatory school and the requirements for admission to the school were raised.

A year or so ago an effort was made the methods of the Smoot machine as it is respresented on the college board. At the first meeting of the board the anti-kerr element sought to put through a motion to discharge Mr. Kerr summarily. Mr. Riter denounced the plan and gave some pointed views of the effort to make the Agricultural college part of the dominant political machine. At the close of his remarks, Mr. Riter left the meeting, and his resignation as a member of the board followed. Mr. Kerr's resignation as president of the college was presented and accepted at the afternoon meeting of the board. That Mr. Riter was sincere in his attitude and did not act without satisfying himself that his stand was just, is indicated by the fact that his resignation was not with drawn and that the governor has found school and the requirements for admission to the school were raised.

A year or so ago an effort was made to cut out the preparatory department, but it could not be done justly because of the scarcity of high schools in the state. BIG PLANS FOR ARBOR DAY

Observance by City Schools Promises Gratifying Results This Year.

Plans for the observance of Arbor day by the city schools next Monday have been maturing for several weeks and it is believed the work this year will be more extensive than ever before. The work has been planned systematically and good results are expected. The preparation of the soil to receive the plants has had attention from the pupils of the schools and some planting has been done already.
